Crisis is what haunts you.

Hobbies are what you practice in your off hours. You only have enough time for 4 at

- Windfall. Someone thinks of a benefit

- Setback. Someone thinks of a problem

Assist another character, describe how you do so and spend at most one Resolve to grant them +1d6 to their roll.

Relief Arcs represent the moments between crises with recovery, reflection, or change. You spend Doubt on them to grow and recover. (See other side.)

The Weird Tropics are Calling

Your World

- It's the 1990s on and near a tropical beach.
- Weirdness and mysteries are everywhere.
- You have a supernatural calling that shows you what reality actually is.
- You can't hold down a job for more than a little while; your calling gets in the way.
- You care deeply about your community and are driven to keep it and everyone safe.
- Your friends and family keep you afloat.
- People are often quirky, buzzed, and sandy.

Relief Arcs

Each arc is a small story with a Setup, Conflict, Climax, and Resolution.

You may use downtime to:

- Develop your Background
- Change your Profession
- Learn a new Skill
- Relieve Doubt, Wounds, and Trauma
- Acquire special Gear
- Form new Bonds or strengthen existing ones
- Work on a project

Skill Arc

- You're inspired to learn something new. What is it and why? (-1 Doubt)
- You practice but just can't get it quite right. Mistakes are made. (-2 Doubt, +1 Wound)
- You delve deep in the topic but a relationship suffers. (-2 Doubt, -1 Bond)
- You have a breakthrough and everything clicks. Eureka. (-3 Doubt, +1 Skill)

Bond Arc

- You formed a new bond or found a special moment with your existing one. (-1 Doubt, +1 Bond)
- You find comfort in their presence. (-1 Doubt, -1 Wound)
- The stress of your life tests the relationship (-1 Doubt, +1 Wound, Roll Bond 6 to prevent -1 Rank)
- There's safety in vulnerability. You reveal what's really going on (Relieve all Doubt, -1 Trauma, +1 Bond, can take no other Relief action this round)

Play Principles

- Be curious about the world. Your questions will help give it shape.
- Play to find out. Don't plan ahead, let the actions unfold naturally.
- Drive it like you stole it. Taking a chance is always more exciting.
- Make your adventures as silly as you want. Laugh or have drama. It's your story.
- Strong bonds shape you. Relationships define your world, lean into them.

Profession Arc

- Searching on the classifieds shows opportunity. You think about new challenges. (-1 Doubt)
- You have an interview. Hope you can afford new clothes. (-2 Doubt, Wealth 4 to dress the part and get the job or TN 4 to get the job)
- You're fed up and quit in a blaze of glory. (-3 Doubt, -1 Wealth, Lose Profession)
- First day at work. Need to learn some names and watch a training video (-3 Doubt, +1 Wealth, New Profession)

Memento Arc

- You rummage around your old things and find something special. (-1 Doubt, New basic Gear)
- You do some research to find out more. It has a history. (-2 Doubt)
- Something about it speaks to you. You build some special connection to it. (-2 Doubt)
- Its true power reveals itself. Name it. (-3 Doubt, Gear updated with special power)

Wealth Arc

- Your life bleeds into your work. Someone notices something different about you. (-1 Doubt)
- You have to make a tough call at work. (-2 Doubt, +1 Wound)
- You figured out how to separate work and life, but that means leaving something behind. (-3 Doubt, +1 Wound, Forget 1 piece of Gear at home next conflict)
- Your efforts are noticed. Management thinks you're ready for more responsibility. (-3 Doubt, -1 Trauma, -All Wounds, +1 Wealth)
